Probe into official's use of fire union credit card

BY ROB GIBSON

rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

A SENIOR official at the Fire Brigades Union has been investigated over his expenses.

Dean Mills used to fight fires across Milton Keynes before he became a member of the union's national committee in 2005.

However, he resigned in February to take an HR job with Bucks Fire and Rescue, which includes recruiting new firefighters in Milton Keynes.

MK NEWS has obtained a report of an internal investigation by the FBU which details concerns relating to transactions on Mr Mills' union credit card.

The card was used for flights, hotels, camera gear and phones.

The report shows that the married 45-year-old used the card to make a number of cash withdrawals, some in Europe, for which no receipts were provided.

According to the report he also used it to buy goods from Tesco, Marks & Spencer, Asda and Staples and to pay for weekend hotel bookings, an Air Malta booking, a British Mensa subscription, mobile phone top-ups and an under water camera casing.

In his report, FBU vice president Alan McLean wrote: "Given brother Mills' inability to produce receipts or to provide a satisfactory answer to a massive number of items on his statements, together with a number of glaring items which indicate misuse of the credit card, I have no other option than to conclude that Rule 26 (1)(b) has been contravened."

The rule states that it is a disciplinary offence if a member wrongly or receives or misapplies funds of the Union.

Mr McLean wrote: "For the period of 2006 to 2008 inclusive, there was credit card spending which was unreceipted, lacking adequate explanation, unauthorised and/or appeared to be personal expenditure [which] totalled over £25,000.

"I considered the floats given to Brother Mills in 2006 and 2007, together with cash withdrawals from a number of ATM machines and the limited explanation for this. I estimate cash from floats still outstanding and the unreceipted cash withdrawals to be over £6,000."

When MK NEWS found Mr Mills welcoming new fire fighter applicants at Bletchley Fire Station, he said: "I've got nothing to say and if you print slander you'll get sued."

When asked about Mr Mills' report, FBU general secretary Matt Wrack said: "In the past couple of years I have introduced tighter controls and better systems of budgeting.

"These processes revealed some anomalies and I therefore initiated an investigation.

"Where I thought there was something wrong, there were no favours for individuals and I dealt with it in an appropriate manner."

Explosives found in vehicle search

Teenager jailed for possession

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

A TEENAGER has been jailed after he was found in possession of home made explosives.

Adil Rehman, 19, of Victoria Street, Wolverton, was found guilty by a jury at Huntingdon Crown Court on Wednesday and sentenced to two years and eight months in prison.

Rehman was in a car with friends when police stopped them to search the vehicle at Aylesbury Street, Wolverton, on July 15 last year.

Officers found a small amount of home made explosive powder and arrested five men.

Over the next two days specialist units searched five addresses in Wolverton, including homes in Church Street, Trinity Road, Stacey Avenue, Victoria Street and St Georges Way and two homes in Greenleys.

Two more suspects were arrested but four men were released without charge after questioning and one was released with a caution for possession of class A and class B drugs.

A 15-year-old boy, not from Milton Keynes, was charged with possession of a knife.

Rehman was charged under the Explosives Substances Act with possession of explosive substances for unlawful purposes and David Crosby, 31, of Wainers Croft, Greenleys, was also charged with the same offence.

Crosby was convicted by a jury in February and sentenced to two years in prison.

At the time of the incident, police in Milton Keynes issued a statement to dispel rumours in the community that there was a link to terrorism and a bomb had been found.

Potential record breakers have three legs to stand on CHARITY founders may be given a Guinness World Record for the longest distance covered on three legs in 12 hours.

Charlie Wardle and Steve Burnett from Milton Keynes charity Climb Your Mountain (CYM) were forced to drop out of their 24-hour three-legged challenge on Friday, June 26 half way through due to injury but their efforts may still be rewarded.

Guinness World Record's judges have opened a new record category for 'Longest distance run three-legged in 12 hours'.

Charlie Wardle said he has submitted evidence that they completed 64.4km in 12 hours to set the first record.

He added: "We were both in quite a lot of pain and Steve Burnett is competing in the UK Ironman Triathlon in a few weeks and I didn't want him to get too injured."

"Guinness's decision gives a message that it is not always about getting to the top of the mountain, but the experience of trying something."

A spokesman for Guinness World Records said: "We are currently waiting for evidence of 'Climb Your Mountain's record attempt so that we can verify their claim and award a new Guinness World Record."

The fundraisers also aimed to beat the record for the most three-legged pairs at one time at Stantonbury Athletics Stadium on Saturday, June 27. Unfortunately they fell 68 short of the record with 122 pairs taking part.

Mr Wardle said "Those who did take part had a great time and really enjoyed it - it's just a shame we couldn't get the numbers higher, maybe next year."

CYM was created in April 2008 with the idea that physical activity can be beneficial to people suffering with depression, stress, low confidence or other similar problems.

Life for mechanic who killed his 'ex'

Girlfriend's screams stifled by toilet paper stuffed down her throat

BY LAURA HANNAM

laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A MECHANIC has been found guilty of murdering his ex-girlfriend and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Jason Burrows killed 22-year-old Gemma Sisley at his home address in Milton Road, Broughton after she ended their relationship.

After a five-day trial the jury was out for just over an hour before returning a guilty verdict at Luton Crown Court on Friday (July 3).

Burrows, 34, had admitted manslaughter but denied murder.

He will serve a minimum of 15 years.

After the verdict Acting Detective Inspector Tony Collingwood, said: "Obviously we are delighted that the jury have found Burrows guilty."

"This callous act destroyed the life of a young woman and has left her family and friends devastated."

"Our thoughts and sympathy at this time are with the family of Gemma who have shown considerable strength and courage throughout this entire harrowing experience."

A statement from Gemma's family said the length of the minimum 15-year term Burrows will serve is 'totally inadequate'.

'Gemma was just 22, Burrows is 34. This means he will be eligible

Killed: Gemma Sisley

Killer: Jason Burrows

for parole when he is just 49. Unfortunately, Gemma will never be released from the sentence Burrow inflicted on her,' it said.

It added: 'The last eight months have been extremely difficult following the devastating realisation of Gemma's brutal murder.'

'Gemma was our first child and first granddaughter to both sets of grandparents and at just 22 years of age was just beginning her adult life. Gemma was a friendly, outgoing, bubbly, full-of-life girl until Burrows squeezed that life from her.'

'She had many friends and nothing was too much trouble for Gemma where friends and family were concerned. We all miss Gemma enormously every day and she will never die in our hearts, minds and memories.'

Burrows chose not to give evidence to the jury and never gave an account to police of how Gemma, who lived at Holland Way, Newport Pagnell, came to die from asphyxiation in his bedroom on October 15 last year during a pre-arranged visit to collect some belongings.

During the trial the prosecution alleged Burrows, who began dating Gemma in August after they met working at Dominos Pizza, was angry when she finished with him four days before her death while they were on holiday together in Blackpool.

Prosecutor Amjad Malik said Burrows, who worked at a garage by day, gagged Gemma by putting toilet paper down her throat to stop others in the house from hearing her screams, that her neck was compressed possibly by being held in an arm lock and her body was wedged between the mattress and wooden side of his bed.

The defence claimed Burrows was so severely depressed at the time he was 'not responsible for his actions' and strangled Gemma with a belt after she criticised him and taunted him, allegedly admitting seeing her ex-boyfriend while she was still going out with him.

Fly-tipper counts cost of dumping rubbish outside recycling centre

A FLY-TIPPER who dumped a pile of household and building waste has been left more than £900 out of pocket.

Milton Keynes Magistrates Court heard on Friday how the waste was dumped at Peartree Lane, opposite the Community Recycling Centre (CRC) on Bleak Hall, by contractor Daryl Barnham while he was working as a builder on a property in Pomander Close, Walnut Tree, in December 2008.

It was discovered by enforcement officers from the Safer Communities Unit (SCU) and their investigations led them back to the house in Walnut Tree.

Mr Barnham, from Harrod in Bedfordshire, was interviewed and claimed he had tried to leave the rubbish at the Bleak Hall CRC but, following an argument with staff, he dumped the waste on Peartree Lane.

The court heard that staff at the CRC could not recall any such incident.

Mr Barnham was fined £350 by magistrates and ordered to pay court costs of £577.21 after admitting an offence of fly-tipping.

He was also ordered to pay £50 towards the costs of clearing up the rubbish.

SCU manager Pete Roberts told MK NEWS: "Residents and businesses have a duty of care to ensure that their waste is disposed of responsibly. There is no excuse for dumping waste, when MK Council makes it so easy to get rid of it legitimately and cheaply."

"We investigate all incidents of illegal dumping that we come across with a view to taking action against offenders."

Firefighters and hospital staff pass spill test

AN exercise was staged at Milton Keynes Hospital on Sunday to test how quickly emergency staff could set up and operate a decontamination site.

It involved crews from Bletchley, Broughton and Great Holm Fire Stations and about 20 hospital staff.

Broughton, said: "Both organisations have to have plans in place to deal with a multitude of possible scenarios. Sunday's exercise was a chemical incident resulting in the contamination of a number of people in a public place."

"The exercise proved that we could set up a decontamination unit in the hospital grounds very quickly - it was up and running within 40 minutes."

The decontamination unit comprises a series of showers operated by firefighters and NHS personnel wearing protective chemical suits.

Firefighters in Olney have also passed an exercise involving a mock fire at a firm in which two people were reported missing.

Suffer the little children

SIR – Even your most casual readers will have noticed the links between your two items on MK's failing educational system (MK NEWS, last week).

On the front page, you report that the Government has decided to intervene as the standard of performance of the council's children's services under Lib-Dem Cllr Sandra Clark is so poor and improving so slowly.

MK is one of only eight authorities across the country needing this direct intervention.

On page five, you report that the Lib-Dem cabinet is feeling 'bullied' into making decisions.

MK has some great schools. Oakgrove Secondary and Knowles First School, to mention just a couple, are doing outstanding work.

But is Cllr Clark discovering how, so that best practice can be shared with other schools?

No, she's whining that she's being 'bullied' to take decisions quickly – decisions that are needed to get MK's educational performance out of the bottom quartile and up to at least the national average.

It was a deliberate insult to MK's parents that Cllr Clark was reappointed to the children's portfolio after such a disastrous performance last year.

The Conservatives are committed to helping MK's children by bringing the educational system up to at least the national average, and right now the biggest obstacle is Cllr Clark and her Lib-Dem colleagues in the cabinet. MK deserves better!
Cllr John Bint
MK Conservatives

■ SIR – This is just another example of this council's incompetence. The Audit Commission has their measure. The sooner we end this Unitary Authority experiment and run the place from Aylesbury the better.

Stars are born

SIR – There are some fantastic secondary schools in Milton Keynes, such as Walton High, Shenley Church End, Oakgrove and the one star rating does not represent this.

Sir Frank is becoming an academy and looks set to rise significantly, and Radcliffe has made substantial improvements which look set to be shown this summer.

Leon and Lord Grey have just collaborated for sixth form education and just hosted an arts festival.

MK secondary schools are hardly one star and when results improve as a result of what is already in place is this task force going to take all the credit – or the teachers already doing the work?

Name?
Address?

Council's new grey food waste bins unhygienic

SIR – I wanted to express my opinion on the new grey food waste bins that have been provided by the council.

What a 'waste' of taxpayers time and money.

This scheme needs re-evaluating and we, as tax payers, should have been consulted on what type of scheme we want.

I have tried using this for the past two days, knowing that my first collection will be Wednesday, July 8.

What a mess and smell this makes. I leave mine in the garage but the number of flies congregating around it is repulsive.

Also, I believe the council wants us to continue putting our food waste into our green garden waste bin 365 days of the year.

Correct me if I'm wrong, but during the winter we don't mow the lawn, nor do we trim our shrubs.

This means our green bin only has food waste in it, which will make the bin smell, attract all sorts of animals, birds and bugs, let alone how often you will need to clean out your green bin in order to stop the maggots appearing.

I, for one, will NOT be using my grey bin – it is unhygienic and this system is a sham.

Why don't we just get a large black bin where we can put all of our rubbish to stop birds and animals pecking away at the black bin bags and causing a mess on the roads and paths?

The council has said one of the reasons for putting food into the green bin is to stop this from happening.

Well, we still have to put plastic containers that have housed meat or fish so the birds and animals will still smell this in the black bag and will still try and peck at it, regardless of whether there is food in there.

Tesco date and time

SIR – Milton Keynes Council has now confirmed the date, time and location for the public meeting about the Tesco Newport Pagnell application.

There has been much controversy over the application and valid points from both sides of the coin.

Regardless of which side your views come from, I urge members of the public to write to the council. Express them professionally and clearly, but also very swiftly!

The date has been confirmed as Thursday, July 30 and venue is Lovat Hall, Newport Pagnell due to the council chamber undergoing refurbishment.

The time of the meeting is 7pm however would recommend members of the public arriving at least 15 to 20 minutes beforehand.

People opposing the application as well as those supporting it are allowed to attend.

This is a public meeting and I have no doubts there will be a good turn out from both sides.

Council off the rails

SIR – For pity's sake, if users of the station are not the most important 'stakeholders', then there's something terribly wrong with the council's approach.

Why does MK Council insist on persisting with its 'we know best' approach to development in MK?

Julian Thomas

First cut is the deepest

SIR – On Wednesday the Prime Minister said that he was not proposing cuts but that there would be no increase in funding next year.

Forgive my ignorance but if my boss offered me a nought per cent increase in pay I don't think he would like my response.

Does this Government take us all for fools?

We don't want MK to get bigger, yet they have been building houses here like there was no tomorrow.

We want a chance to voice our opinion on the European constitution but we are denied one.

And now we have a Prime Minister who believes we will buy his excuse of a nought per cent increase.

I am not always happy with the way my MP, Mark Lancaster votes (he voted for Trident and I wouldn't have) but at least he tells it as it is.

Police halt survey after traffic chaos

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

POLICE have questioned the council's wisdom after they were forced to step in to end a traffic census which caused major congestion on the city's roads.

Traffic queued for miles last Wednesday along the A5 south-bound between Stony Stratford and Stacey Bushes, as police stopped drivers so the council could quiz them on their driving habits.

Milton Keynes Council has been carrying out a number of traffic censuses across the city over recent weeks but tailbacks meant the road was restricted to one lane.

Chief Inspector Andy Standen said: "Traffic censuses are important to allow for planning for the future development of Milton Keynes.

"We will be speaking with the council about the wisdom of holding the census on roads like this in the future as I don't believe this is in the public interest to cause so much disruption.

He offered an apology for the problems caused.

One driver caught in the jam told MK NEWS: "I was furious with it.

"They're doing a traffic survey but it's just making traffic worse.

"Can't they just ask people by putting a questionnaire through their door? The road was blocked back for miles and it just causes extra hassle."

The surveys are held every 10 years, and the council last surveyed the A5 in 1999.

Previously they have helped to improve the A5 Portway and Abbey Hill junctions.

A spokesman for the council said: "We didn't intend to cause any disruption.

"We have worked closely with our police partners during the surveys and of course welcome their input.

"We inspected all our proposed sites some weeks ago with the police present, and although we feel it was a short term period of 'pain' we are anticipating using data from our surveys to ensure we all benefit from long term improvements.

"We will look at any lessons learned."

Restaurant fined for cockroach infestation

A CATERING company and its director have been fined following a cockroach infestation at a Chinese restaurant.

Kwai Lok Chan, director of MK Cuisines Ltd, appeared before city magistrates on Friday (July 3) to admit four offences under food safety regulations, relating to the Samip restaurant in CMK.

Magistrates heard that the offences were discovered on September 2, 2008 during a routine food hygiene inspection, and the restaurant was closed down under emergency procedures.

Problems included dirty premises and a serious cockroach infestation.

The new owners had also failed to register the food business with Milton Keynes Council.

The offences were:

■ Failing to ensure that the food premises was kept clean and maintained in good repair and condition

■ Failing to ensure that adequate procedures were in place to control pests

■ Failing to ensure that food was protected from any contamination likely to render the food unfit for human consumption

■ Failing to register the food business with the local authority.

Mr Chan admitted them on behalf of himself and he was fined a total of £400.

He was also ordered to pay £513.88 towards the costs.

He also admitted four offences on behalf of MK Cuisines Ltd for the same offences - the company was fined £5,000 and ordered to pay £1,500 towards costs.

Senior Environmental Health officer, Natasha Bentley, who led the investigation, said: "Premises serving food to the public need to ensure they are operating in accordance with proper hygiene standards. We can and will continue to prosecute where these standards fall below acceptable levels, as they did seriously on this occasion."

America theme for Newport carnival

THOUSANDS of people turned out to see Newport Pagnell's carnival at the weekend.

Held on July 4, there could only be one theme: America.

The colourful parade included classic cars, the anti-Tesco group TESNO, a Wild West stagecoach and Disney float.

Top Talent judges David Gale, Louise Dearman and Kevin Wood

STARS of the future packed in to Milton Keynes Theatre at the weekend to show off their talents. The theatre's MK Top Talent competition attracted more than 135 local acts, all competing to win the prize of a lifetime - a chance to star in the region's premier pantomime Cinderella. The competition is supported by MK NEWS and Heart. The acts took to the stage as judges including Cinderella herself, West End leading lady Louise Dearman, panto producer Kevin Wood and MK NEWS editor David Gale gave them two minutes to win them over and win a place in the second round of auditions. The judges had some tough decisions but in the end 92 acts were put through to the second stage of auditions which will see remaining acts reduced to just 40. It will be this 40 that will go through to the live heats in September. Louise who, used to work at MK Theatre before hitting the big time herself was full of praise for the competitors. She said: "It was a wonderful day. It was just fantastic to see so much talent on

Cllr sees red over Orange phone masts

BY LAURA HANNAM

laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A COUNCILLOR is campaigning against a 'forest' of phone masts being built on Milton Keynes' roundabouts.

Jaime Tamignini-Barbosa, ward councillor for Middleton, objected to an application by phone company Orange to install equipment on the Kingston Roundabout on Standing Way.

The company has been given the go-ahead by Milton Keynes Council's development control committee to replace a ten metre lamppost with a new one of the same height and attach antennae just below the light.

Cllr Tamignini-Barbosa claims there are already three similar masts on nearby roundabouts owned by three separate companies. This is nothing against mobiles, as I couldn't live without my phone, but why can't these companies just share one roundabout to do the whole lot?

"When you have them on roundabout after roundabout it has a cumulative effect. At the moment it is becoming like a forest of masts."

A spokesman for Orange said the structures in the nearby area are not 'shareable' and it is unable to use them.

She said: "Orange will be utilising existing street furniture for this new installation on the Kingston Roundabout (ie council lamppost) as this is a preference expressed by Milton Keynes Council. This will mean that there will be minimal visual intrusion and negate the need for a separate structure. This site will provide an increased level of coverage for the Milton Keynes area for Orange customers, something we are committed to providing as a licensed telecoms provider."

Cllr Jaime Tamignini-Barbosa: Fed up with a 'forest' of mobile phone masts

Survey to help with transport plan

COULD you be one of the 4,500 homes selected to help Milton Keynes keep moving in the future?

MK is one of 77 local authorities taking part in MORI's customer satisfaction survey on highway and transport services.

This research will help the council to identify how residents of Milton Keynes rate the different aspects of highway and transport services and how this compares to other local authorities.

The 12-page questionnaire should take about 20 minutes to complete and covers all aspects of local transport and highways from the condition of roads and footways to the quality of the local bus services.

This is the first time so many council's have joined forces to carry out surveys in a comparable format. They will be able to compare results and identify future opportunities to work together.

Transport boss Cllr Alan Mallyon said: "Resident's feedback is invaluable, last year we had a 17 per cent return rate. If we can exceed this it would give us valuable research, particularly in light of the Strategic Transport Plan currently being developed."

Roll up for Antiques Roadshow at Bletchley Park

GET your heirlooms out and your collectables at the ready. This weekend the Antiques Roadshow is coming to Bletchley Park.

On Sunday the home of the code breakers is playing host to the BBC prime time show.

It is the first time the BBC show has visited the area since it came to Woburn Abbey in 2003.

The doors open at 9.30 am and close at 4.30pm, and entry is free.

As well as presenter Fiona Bruce, familiar faces at the show will include Eric Knowles, Hilary Kay, and David Battie, who will offer free valuations.

Series editor Simon Shaw says: "As a television producer it's a scary prospect when we turn up for a day's filming and no knowledge of what might turn up. I often look at the queue first thing and say a quiet prayer that there really are interesting pieces in all those bags.

"Amazingly we still keep finding fascinating pieces and some of the best aren't necessarily the most valuable."

Help World Cup bid

YOU could help Milton Keynes become a host city for the World Cup.

MK is on a shortlist of 15 to be a base for the 2018 or 2022 FIFA World Cup, should England be chosen as the staging country.

And the MK consortium is looking for individuals and families of football fans to help with the bid.

On July, 21 judges from the Football Association will visit MK to assess the suitability as a host city for the World Cup.

The consortium want people to tell the judges first hand why MK should be selected as part of the bid presentation.

MK NEWS revealed in May that the city had launched its bid to be a venue where group games would be played and training facilities for international teams would be set up.

England Under-21 manager Stuart Pearce told MK NEWS he backed Milton Keynes' bid, and support has continued.

Council leader Sam Crooks said: "The consortium is very busy working with the FA and highlighting Milton Keynes as a good potential host city.

"We feel that it is important that the judges also hear from local people themselves, as to why they are so passionate about football, and why the World Cup should come to Milton Keynes.

"We already know we are more than up to the task with our sporting facilities, transport links and support infrastructure, and of course our 'can do' attitude."

MK Dons chairman Pete Winkelman said: "The fans' input is crucial to this campaign and we want the judges to meet real people. You tend to find people who are passionate about football, or passionate about Milton Keynes, and when you put the two together, you've got a powerful combination.

"But it's not just football fans we're after we want to hear from local people across the board who want to meet the judges in person and show what makes Milton Keynes' bid exceptional."

■ Those interested in helping the MK consortium need to be available on July, 21 and should send their name, contact details and a sentence or two about why they feel MK deserves to host World Cup matches by e-mail to: communications@milton-keynes.gov.uk

■ Fans can also log onto www.england2018.bid.co.uk/hostcity/ to support England's World Cup bid and vote for Milton Keynes as a host city.

Fallen tree leaves Eaglestone family's garden wall in ruins

A FAMILY had a lucky escape when this tree collapsed onto their bungalow.

Warren Blythe was in the property in Griffon Close, Eaglestone with his partner and their 20-month-old daughter when it came crashing down.

He said: "I heard the sound of rustling leaves and saw our dog Brutus look up. It came down very quickly."

The tree fell onto edge of the bungalow inches away from their new double glazed windows which had been installed hours before.

It caused damage to the garden wall but no one was injured.

Emergency services attended including two fire engines and three police officers.

Eco-students monitor wind power savings

GOING green is a real breeze for one city school after having three wind turbines installed.

Construction company Morgan Ashurst is building an £8.9million three-storey extension at Oakgrove School on Venturer Gate on behalf of Milton Keynes Council.

It will accommodate classrooms, a dance studio, IT suites and sixth form facilities as well as a host of 'green' features.

The new building will be clad in cedar wood from sustainable forests and will showcase a host of extra 'green' features, including a photovoltaic panel on the roof which will convert the sun's rays directly into electricity, rainwater harvesting, natural ventilation and ground-source heating.

As part of the project, Morgan Ashurst and the council worked with Solar Technologies Ltd to install three turbines measuring 15 metres high. The machines will generate enough electricity to power at least 20 average-sized homes. They will be linked to a computer system which will allow staff and students to measure how much energy is being saved.

Headteacher Peter Barnes said: "This is another exciting phase of Oakgrove School and we are delighted to showcase some of the most eco-friendly and sustainable buildings in the country."

Wind turbines will provide power to Oakgrove School while students check savings on computer

Ringling the changes on city centre parking

MORE than 2,000 drivers have registered for the new pay-by-phone parking scheme.

The system, which launched on May 5, is available in Central Milton Keynes, on all red premium and blue long stay bays.

Instead of putting money in a pay and display machine, drivers can use their mobile phone.

Cllr Alan Mallyon, cabinet member responsible for transport, said "The part that excites me most is the facility to get a reminder text message to say my time is about to run out. We're pleased that so many residents, workers and visitors to CMK are benefitting from this new service."

Arbour lights up hospice

A GROUP of young people have decorated a mosaic-inlaid wooden arbour for patients of Willen Hospice to enjoy.

Students from Walton High and Redway School presented the arbour to the hospice on Thursday alongside a mosaic wall-hanging.

MK Council youth worker Clare Slattery said: "The young people involved, who range in age from 14 to 16 years, have worked really hard in the last eight months and the end results are stunning.

"We hope that the arbour will give pleasure to the patients and visitors of Willen Hospice for many years."

Darren Gough looks on as the Critchley's son Patrick tees off from the new sixth at Three Locks

Three Locks stock goes up with course revamp

BY SIMONE CORGAN

simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

A REVAMPED golf course was officially unveiled by former England cricketer Darren Gough at the weekend.

The Three Locks Golf Club, in Great Brickhill, has been extended by owners Peter and Patrice Critchley, who spent £325,000 on the upgrade.

The main cost was buying a section of land which originally cut the course in two.

Now they own the entire land they have been able to lengthen the first and 13th hole, as well as completely redesign the sixth.

And it appears to have won over the customers, including ex-Essex, and Yorkshire bowler Gough.

The 38-year-old attended the open day, and started on the sixth tee where he hit 15 balls, before moving back to the first to entertain the crowd with a few trick shots.

Gough, a friend of Peter, said: "I've played a lot of golf courses around the world and around the UK, so knowing someone who owns a golf club is always a good thing."

"I started playing golf with him and he asked if I'd come and tee-off. I like playing this course, it's challenging."

"It's a very, very good course."

Stewkley-based Gough is a regular to the course and he confessed that the chef Rico Miranda is also a reason Three Locks is his regular hang-out.

Gough added: "Rico does the best food in Buckinghamshire, and I mean that, and he pulls the best pint of Guinness you have ever seen."

"The food and the drink is a big part of golf and the 19th hole is the biggest draw. I love playing here, my kids love playing. It's got something for everyone, there's hard holes and easy holes."

Three Locks is not yet the finished article, as a new club house is set to be in place by March 2010.

If you think you've got swine flu – stay home!

POTENTIAL swine flu sufferers are being urged to stay at home.

The call from NHS Milton Keynes comes after a small number of people have gone to the local hospital with symptoms of the virus. This is against all advice being issued by health chiefs.

There have been five confirmed cases of swine flu in MK.

Graham Ball, deputy chief executive of NHS Milton Keynes, said: "If people feel unwell and they think their symptoms are related to swine flu, they should telephone their GP who can provide a diagnosis over the phone.

"People should not go to accident and emergency or their GP practice if they suspect they have swine flu."

People should continue general infection control practices and good respiratory/hand hygiene can help to reduce transmission of all viruses.

■ You can check your symptoms on-line at www.nhs.uk or call the swine flu information line on 0800 1 513 513.

Follow the guidelines in the swine flu information leaflet

Blooming lovely and blooming longer

RESIDENTS are to enjoy flowers for longer thanks to a trial of specialist seeds across the city.

The seed mixes were developed by Sheffield University to provide greenery and flowers from June to November.

The new mixes have already been sown in Browns Wood, Caldecotte (pictured) and along the V10 in Kents Hill Park.

Maurice Barnes, parks and open spaces officer at MK Council, said: "We are working to make our parks and open spaces bloom to the nationally recognised Green Flag standard."

Milton Keynes has won the Silver Gilt status in the Britain in Bloom competition for the last five years.

MKNEWSBRIEFS

Is your garden shed the best?

ARE you proud of your garden shed?

Wyevalde Woburn Sands Garden Centre wants to hear from people who are.

As part of its Shed Weekend this week-end it is launching a competition this for people who love their sheds.

Kevin Boltrusko, manager of the garden centre, said: "Our Shed Weekend links in with National Shed Week. Sheds aren't just for old pots and gardening tools. Some people use them for train sets, others convert them into offices and writers and artists use them as tranquil havens."

The garden centre is asking people to bring in a photograph of their garden shed which will go on show from July 11 until July 19.

Shed owners are asked to hand their shed photograph to a member of the garden centre team during normal opening hours until 4pm on July 19.

The garden centre team will select the competition winner.

Youngsters hoping the answer lies in the soil

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

DESPITE the recent heat-wave young people have been putting their backs into the launch of a new local food growing enterprise.

Work has begun on an urban farm in Wolverton, where vegetables and salad crops will be grown organically and sold locally to individuals, shops and restaurants.

The project is run by a new social enterprise group called Growing People, which is part of the Milton Keynes Christian Foundation.

Up to 20 young people, who are not in further education and have no jobs, will work full time on the project and receive training.

Heather Talbot, Growing People project leader said: "It's great experience for them working on a social enterprise project as its like an actual work environment, so it is experience that will hopefully translate when they get a job."

"It's also a good stepping stone where they can build their confidence and work on their interpersonal skills."

The 2.5 acre farm is in the area behind Windsor Street, Gloucester Road and Marjon Lane, on land rented from Wolverton and Greenleys Town Council.

In two months the group has cut down the brambles, put up three poly tunnels and planted potatoes, sweetcorn and beans.

They also plan to grow salad and other vegetables such as baby beetroot and carrots using an environmentally friendly 'no dig' technique, which involves laying mulch and cardboard over the existing vegetation, covering it in compost and allowing it to rot down before planting.

Miss Talbot added: "We hope that the project will become self-funding by selling the produce. We have already had interest from pubs such as The Greyhound in Haversham and The Navigation Inn in Cosgrove."

"We also want other groups to get involved such as schools and community groups."

Miss Talbot is also calling for people with gardening experience who would like to work with disengaged young people to help out.

WHAT the HELL is this rubbish? For starters, the song that this is based on isn't called Numa Numa, it's called Dragostea Din Tei.

Dunno why they thought it was called Numa Numa, actually, yes I do, that's what it was called on the YouTube video that kid recorded of himself singing along. If that's not bad enough, there's the song itself.

It's so dreadful it makes the original look like Bohemian Rhapsody.

Basshunter's involvement should be noted at this point, but to be fair this disaster has been a team effort, so singling any one person out for criticism would be unfair. But singer's contribution has to be classed as collateral damage here, because her voice has been so heavily processed it may as well have been sung by an I Speak Your Weight machine. Seriously, this song is bad. Really, really bad.

EVACUATE THE DANCEFLOOR

Cascadia

WELL now, there's a call to action if ever I saw it, and one that I would certainly be happy to comply with if this (or any other Cascadia song to date) started playing.

Well, I would if I could dance, so from my perspective it's the thought that counts. This is more mature than their previous efforts, but it's still light, frothy and ultimately empty.

Still, looking on the bright side, at least it doesn't go on for too long.

Entertaining the kids needn't be a chore or cost a fortune when you've got 4,500 acres of parkland to run wild in, 22million trees to find a shady spot under and more than 50 summer park activities to enjoy.

Build a rocket or a den, take a late night bat and moth walk, join a big bug hunt or hone your circus skills and learn how to juggle, spin plates or walk a tightrope.

The Parks Trust's summer event programme includes a picnic perfect open-air performance of A Midsummer Night's Dream on Friday, July 24.

A series of sports taster sessions designed for teenagers (Monday-Friday, July 20-24) or a free weekend festival of four films on Saturday and Sunday, August 22-23.

Alternatively just pack a picnic and enjoy the scenery and space.

As well as Campbell Park and Willen Lake there are plenty of walks and picnic spots along the Ouse Valley and many leafy glades to explore in Linford, Howe Park or Shenley Woods.

Organised children's events of crafts, games and exciting activities cost £3 per activity but you can save more than 50 per cent of the cost by buying a yearly pass for £30.

Briony Serginson, community team manager at The Parks Trust, said "Milton Keynes is one of Britain's greenest cities and a great place to enjoy the outdoors and summer sun. We put on a varied programme of activities to encourage as many people as possible to visit our amazing parks.

"Booking is a must as these holiday events are hugely popular and children must be accompanied by an adult."

Summer in the city

THERE is never a shortage of things to do in Milton Keynes to fill up your summer days.

If you are an active type then why not turn your hand to snowboarding, rock climbing, mountain biking, water skiing or go-karting.

If that sounds a bit too adventurous you can always take a walk, jog or run around the many parks and open spaces that the city has to offer.

Even more fun, get the bike out of the garage, put on your helmet and while away a couple of hours seeing a different side to Milton Keynes via the miles of redways.

When the sun goes down in Milton Keynes, things really start to hot up. From theatres to live music venues, comedy, restaurants and pubs there is plenty to keep you up until the early hours.

The most important thing is to enjoy the summer in Milton Keynes.

Life's a beach at thecentre:mk

SAIL the high seas this summer at thecentre:mk

thecentre:mk is celebrating its 30th Birthday this year and as part of the activities, Middleton Hall is being transformed into an indoor beach complete with 60ft galleon wreck.

From July 22 to September 2 the galleon will be home to a state of the art 3D interactive adventure where children of all ages will be able to take a journey under the ocean and interact with friendly sea creatures.

One hundred tons of sand will be shipped in to Middleton Hall to create what is hoped to be the largest indoor beach in the UK for children to play in whilst the adults relax in deckchairs – all without the worry of the British weather.

The central attraction will be a first for a shopping centre, Captain Jack's 3D Film Show – an underwater adventure for children.

Wearing 3D spectacles the children will be able to search for buried treasure in the ocean depths with Captain Jack, meeting his fishy friends in an environment which is truly brought to life with state-of-the-art technology.

There are discounts for families (up to four people), groups (up to 10 people) and the booking of the entire galleon (up to 70 people).

For those who like their entertainment a little more traditional there will be a lighthouse helter skelter, paddle boats, a carousel, 30ft-high coconut trees to climb and sandcastles to build.

Photo opportunities with Captain Jack and the more traditional fun pictures to poke your head through will provide an instant memory of a day at the beach.

Throughout the event there will be sandcastle competitions, Punch & Judy shows, treasure hunts around the centre and even donkey rides in City Square.

Lots of places to visit – and loads of things to see and do

THERE is plenty going on in the parks and open spaces of Milton Keynes this summer.

A good, and free, way of enjoying the summer outdoors is by taking advantage of the 4,500 acres of parks and green space that the city can offer.

Walking through a wood, feeding the ducks, enjoying a picnic, meeting friends or simply letting the kids go wild – parks are a great way to have fun.

The Parks Trust also has a host of events lined up this summer to make your days and nights that little bit more entertaining.

Whether it's a park, river valley, ancient woodland or a lakeside no one is ever more than half a mile away from green space.

None more so than a performance of A Midsummer Night's Dream at the Open-Air Theatre in Campbell Park on July 24 – the first time that the park has hosted an open-air Shakespearean theatre production.

Other highlights include Summer sports sessions for teenagers (July 20-24), Bee-Mania at Howe Park Wood (August 4).

Enjoying music, dance and cultures of the world at the World

Picnic in Campbell Park (August 2) or the Open-Air Film Festival (August 22-23).

For more information on a host of events taking place visit wgwww.theparkstrust.com

■ FOR cutting edge art the city is spoilt by having MKG.

Running until August 30, is the exhibition in the Long Gallery, The Pigeon Archive by Lyndall Phelps.

The artist documents through photography, video and sculpture, the re-enactment of pigeon manoeuvres undertaken during both World Wars.

While in the Middle and Cube Galleries there is a Quiet Revolution: A Hayward Touring Exhibition.

■ IF you haven't visited Milton Keynes Museum before then this summer is the time to start.

The telephone exhibition is a highlight with almost everyone. You can be an operator, use button A and button B, overhear conversations and try out telephones of all kinds – those that have to be dialled, candlestick phones and one even shaped like a chameleon.

In the parlour you can provide the entertainment on a pianola or join in parlour games like puff billiards.

With the street of vintage shops, the barn, the 'Print' and the Hall of Transport, there are hours of entertainment to be had.

One special event taking place this summer is the Country Fair (July 12).

A celebration of the countryside with a traditional country fair featuring farm animals including a shire horse, country crafts, rural pastimes and farm machinery.

Professor Beamish will also appear periodically during the school holidays when there is always something extra for families and children.

Log on to w.mkmuseum.org.uk for more information.

■ CATCH Stantonbury Campus Theatre's Musical Theatre Showcase 2009 (July 25)

Pack up your troubles – ditch

Going on holiday is a great time to ditch those beauty products and enjoy having a natural, sun-kissed glow and beach-head hair. All too often that bulging toiletries bag finds its way into the suitcase. But streamlining your beauty haul means you'll have more room for sarongs, sandals and bikinis, while ensuring that you don't go over your baggage allowance. There are two ways of making your beautifying routine more suitcase-friendly. Either choose multi-use products or make use of lightweight mini travel sets. Here's our pick of the best in jet-set beauty essentials.

your old make-up bag

MAKE-UP

Condensing your make-up bag can be tricky if you're a cosmetics junkie. Look for a neutral or metallic colour palette which includes a selection of blushes, eye shadows and lip colours. Then pack your own concealer stick, tinted moisturiser and mascara.
TRY: Vie At Home Summer Capsule Collection palette, £15 (www.virginvieathome.com); Bobbi Brown Customised Palette, £10, to be filled with individual products from £13 each (www.bobbibrown.co.uk)

FACE

Forget about your usual lengthy bedtime routines. There's no time or space for anti-ageing lotions and potions when you're on holiday. All you need is your cleanser, toner and daily moisturiser to maintain skincare standards.
TRY: Bliss Youth As We Know It Travel Kit, £35 (www.blisslondon.co.uk); The Sanctuary Spa Facial Starter Kit, £9.79 (www.thesanctuary.co.uk)

HAIR

Staying in a hotel? Don't pack your bulky all-singing, all-dancing hairdryer without checking with the hotel first. Contact the front desk prior to your trip and check whether there's one available in your room. If not, find a travel dryer or go au naturel!
TRY: Philip Kingsley Body And Volume Jet Set kit, £17.50 (www.philipkingsley.com); Mark Hill Holiday Hair Anti-Humidity Spray, £3.42 (Boots); Sassoon 1200w fold-up Travel Dryer, £9.99 (www.hot-uk.co.uk)

BODY

Body products are often the bulkiest beauty essentials to lug around. Downsize to lightweight mini versions, which won't break your back. Pick out a tropical or fruity-scented shower gel to get you into the holiday spirit as you get ready to hit the beach.
TRY: Crabtree & Evelyn India Hicks Island Living Travel Set, £25

(www.crabtree-evelyn.co.uk) Molton Brown The Tropical Traveller body set, £39 (www.moltonbrown.co.uk) REN Mini Set, £15 (www.renskinco.com)

FRAGRANCE

There's nothing worse than opening your suitcase to discover a spillage. Try and find mini samples of your favourite scent or, better still, switch to a roller ball-style that's smaller, more concentrated and will waft provocatively from your pulse points in the heat.
TRY: Missoni Acqua Eau de Toilette Roller Ball, £44.04; DKNY Be Delicious Eau de Parfum Roller Ball, £14.68

SUNCARE

Never skimp on the sunscreen, but if you're jetting off on a short-haul trip and don't want to take vats of SPF, check out the mini options available for sun protection, like sachets, towelettes or miniatures.
TRY: Liz Earle Sun Try-Me Kit, £18.25 (www.lizearle.co.uk); Boots Soltan Mini Spray SPF15, £4.99

MULTI-PURPOSE

Can't stand faffing around with hoards of mini creams, sprays and cosmetics? Stick to products that have multiple functions in your toiletries bag. Vaseline, for instance, can be used on dry lips, lashes and for removing make-up.
TRY: Vaseline Lip Therapy SPF 15, £1.66 (0800 085 1548); Australian Tea Tree Pure Essential Oil, £3.91 (0870 850 7114)

DIY BEAUTY TRAVEL

If you don't want to shell out on a whole new beauty cabinet's worth of travel products, use your current stash. Invest in a DIY mini travel set with empty pots, fill with your favourite products and, ta-dah, you have your own customised beauty takeaway kit!
TRY: Boots Mini Travel Set, £2.75; MUJI 100ml bottle containers, from £1.95 each (www.mujionline.co.uk); Bobbi Brown Empties set, £9.79 (www.bobbibrown.co.uk)

TRIED & TESTED

When you can't be bothered to slap on the sunscreen daily, switch your usual moisturiser to an SPF day moisturiser in the morning. We trial three protective contenders.
1. Simple Daily Radiance Moisturiser SPF 10, £6.49 (Boots)
This SPF moisturiser was disappointing. After you've put it on it feels sticky to the touch, so it's not the best base for make-up. It did give my skin a nice glow but those with fair skin might want more than a SPF 10 on their face.
Rating: 2/5

2. Dermologica Sheer Moisture SPF 15, £23.30 (0800 591818)
I loved the shimmer effect of this moisturiser which gave my skin a gorgeous healthy glow. I wasn't overly keen on the smell though so wouldn't change from my usual moisturiser.
Rating: 3/5

3. Philosophy Hope In a Jar SPF 20, £36 (www.hqhair.com)
Light and quickly absorbed, this moisturiser with added sunscreen protection is miles better than others I've tried. It's not too rich or oily, and glides onto skin easily. The only snag is the strong sunscreen scent, which can be off-putting.
Rating: 4/5

Simple things can go a long way to a healthier lifestyle

SUMMER is a great time to get healthy.

Whether it is getting fit, eating more healthily or just pampering yourself, the warm days and longer evenings offer you the perfect chance to make yourself feel and look good.

Joining a gym, going for a run, swimming, walking, cycling or just exercising safely at home there is an activity that will suit you.

Think about the simple things that can go a long way to a healthier lifestyle for you and the planet.

Instead of popping around the corner shops in your car why don't you walk round and if it's practical try cycling in to work at least once or twice a week.

In MK cyclists are spoilt by the fantastic network of redways that link up the estates.

It is easy to think of reasons not to exercise and no one is saying its not tough getting started, but once you have started its probably a decision you will not regret.

Remember to consult your doctor if you are unsure about what activity may be right for you.

The Food Standards Agency has a few tips on how to make healthier and safer food choices.

Eats more fruit, vegetables and starchy food such as rice, bread, pasta and potatoes.

Also try protein rich foods such as meat, fish, eggs and pulses.

Cut down on salt, fat and sugar.

Join a gym and get fit with others – or you can exercise at home

It is a 12 week scheme of individually tailored exercise and includes, supervised gym workouts, small group exercise sessions, advice about healthy eating and one-to-one consultations including pre and post screening.

No peeking and poking makes for perfect barbecue cooking

THERE'S nothing quite like a barbecue.

Millions of us will be holding one this summer for family and friends.

However, don't let yours become a feast of burnt sausages and blackened burgers.

There is so much more that can be done so get adventurous.

Lots can be done in advance, so on the day you'll just need to light the barbie, prepare the salads and cook the meat.

Marinating prior to barbecuing helps tenderise meat, imparts flavour, and helps keep meats and vegetables moist throughout the cooking process.

Cooking time depends on the cut of meat and whether you prefer rare, medium or well-done. In general the larger the cut, the longer you cook it. Use a timer for best results.

Use your barbecue to its full potential - modern barbecues can grill, fry, roast and bake. If you have a barbecue with a lid, leaving it on acts like an oven so you can cook whole fish and meat joints, and any other food that needs longer cooking at low temperatures.

There is a common misconception that food must be constantly prodded with various utensils in order to cook properly. But if you constantly pierce your steaks and chicken legs the juices will escape and you'll end up with a tough piece of leather.

If you're cooking directly over hot coals, meat should only be turned once. If you're cooking with a lid on - similar to oven-roasting - there's no need to turn the meat at all.

Using tin foil in an effort to reduce the washing-up is a bad idea - adding anything to a barbecue is a fire hazard, and sheets of tin foil flapping about will obstruct the airflow and interfere with the cooking process.

We have trouble believing that our barbecues can cook without our help. Despite the new modern barbecues with lids, most of us persistently peek at the food, which increases the length of cooking time and increases the risk of flare-ups as air fans the flames.

BE SAFE

Follow this advice from Bucks Fire and Rescue Service for a safe barbecue.

- Never use flammable liquids to light the barbecue.
- Make sure your barbecue is well away from sheds, fences, trees, shrubs and garden waste.
- Keep children, pets and garden games away from the cooking area.
- Never use a barbecue indoors.
- Never leave a barbecue unattended.
- Always keep a bucket of water, sand or a garden hose nearby for emergencies.
- Enjoy yourself but don't drink too much if using a barbecue.

Bradwell stay top after victory over winless Newport

CRICKET

Morrants Four Counties Division One

NEW Bradwell maintained their lead at the top of the table with victory over Newport Pagnell.

Bradwell recorded a 20 run win at Newport Pagnell, who are still rock bottom with seven defeats to their name.

Bradwell were dismissed for 147 with Andy Overton (38) top scoring.

And despite the efforts of Mike Page (33) Pagnell fell short of the total.

Newport Pagnell are yet to win a game this season.

Eaton Bray are still trailing leaders New Bradwell by 26 points despite beating Elstow by six wickets.

Elstow went in to bat on their home ground and rattled off to 158-8, with David Riddle recording a half century and Paul Jackson reaching 42.

However, Eaton Bray had an impressive James Flecknell in good form with the bat and his unbeaten 66, assisted by Andy Norris' 50, helped them to victory.

Milton Keynes City beat Old Bradwell by 98 runs.

City were dismissed for 178, even though Old Bradwell's bowlers Ant Perry (4-25) and Joey Downward (4-25) took good figures.

Unfortunately, Bradwell's batting line-up did not have the same fight and they were all out for 80.

City are up to third after clinching the win.

Cherwell League Division One

BLETCHLEY Town returned to winning ways on Saturday after they thrashed Shipton by 126 runs at Manor Fields.

An early loss of James Sprittles on three was soon forgotten when Kenroy Hollis and Graham Simpson made a solid foundation.

Mark Roberts then shared an impressive stand of 120 with Simpson (87) for the fourth wicket.

When Roberts was run out for his maiden half century (54) for the club, Bletchley reached 208-8 in their 53 overs.

The host had Shipton at 0-1, before the visitor struggled their way to 34-5.

Shipton were soon 57-8 when Packard and Mohammed claimed a wicket each.

There was a late rally from Shipton's tailenders, but a run out, followed by Packard dismantling the stumps of Lewis saw the visitors shot out for a meagre 82.

Mohammed was the pick of the bowlers with 4-23, and he received excellent support from fellow opener Sprittles (2-20) and Ed Packard (3-24) who looked in good form with the ball.

Northants Premier League

STONY Stratford moved to ninth following a five wicket win over Rushton.

The hosts Rushton got off to a flying start as Marcus Stead (97) and Mandeep Singh (79) shared an opening partnership if 184.

Stony skipper Dion Ebrahim made the breakthrough at 184-1, but Rushton went on to reach 249-7.

Stony were in trouble when John Lambe (7) and Nick Allen (0) were dismissed.

But Ebrahim (79) and Nathan Hawkes (81) put them on the front foot before Graeme Carter (48no) provided great support.

Carter and Paul West were at the crease as Stony won their third win of the season.

MK DONS EXCLUSIVE

Things are looking up for Mursley six-a-siders

Spectators and players at Mursley Boys six-a-side tournament got a very special surprise on Sunday.

Play stopped as they were treated to a formation fly-past by the RAF Red Arrows.

The aerial treat had been arranged by sports association chairman, Jim Crews, after he found the planes would attend for special charity events if they are nearby. So at 2.04pm on Sunday it was a case of keep your eyes off the ball and look up.

This weekend it's the turn of the girls with Mursley's Girls six-a-side and what's the betting one or two will keep on eye on the sky?

Driver change at Red Bull

MOTOR RACING

RED Bull Racing have changed their reserve driver in time for the German Grand Prix this weekend.

The MK-racing outfit have brought Jaime Alguersuari to the wheel in place of Brendon Hartley.

The team have switched the drivers at the half way point in the season to ensure both gain experience. Alguersuari, 19, became the youngest ever British F3 champion last year, and is currently competing in the World Series by Renault.

The Spaniard takes up the role as part of his young driver training programme, it will include him being allowed to follow all activities of the F1 teams over a race weekend, attending technical briefings and listening in on the pit car radio conversations.

He is the third reserve driver Red Bull have used this season after retired driver, and now pundit, David Coulthard was on standby for the first few races.

Hartley is set to continue on his own racing programme in the European F3 series.

Red Bull will be hoping to recreate their one-two from Silverstone at Sebastian Vettel's home Grand Prix on Sunday.

I couldn't have asked for better supporters and they will always remain in my heart – Roberto Di Matteo

BY SIMONE CORGAN

simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

ROBERTO Di Matteo pointed to the development of players as his greatest achievement at MK Dons.

In an exclusive interview with MK NEWS the former Dons boss spoke openly about his time at the club, his relationship with Pete Winkelman and his plans to return to stadiummk.

Di Matteo left the Dons after a year in charge to take over at West Bromwich Albion, and despite missing out on promotion last season he did not regret a moment of his time at the helm.

The Italian said: "It was a tough year because we lost key players at the beginning of the season.

"We, not only me but Eddie and Ade, are very proud that Sam Baldock had his first season and scored 13 goals. Aaron Wilbraham had the best season of his career.

"Luke Howell has developed into a very good player and he's a fantastic asset now for MK Dons."

With reports that Di Matteo applied for the Watford job early last month, questions have been raised as to whether his relationship with chairman Winkelman had soured, but Di Matteo insists that could not be further from the truth.

The 39-year-old says it had to be a special job to take him away from the Dons.

He said: "If he didn't appoint me last year then I wouldn't be here today, and I did thank him for that.

"He was great, I hope to have repaid him with the work and work ethic we put in. I think we had a good relationship, we both worked hard to develop the club further and take it too the next step."

Yet, taking that step means saying goodbye to a club that has found it's way into Di Matteo's heart.

"Obviously I'm very happy that I'm able to join such a big club with a long history like West Brom," he said. "They have big ambition as well. On the other hand I'm sad to leave the MK supporters, the staff at MK, they were magnificent.

"The chairman he's been very supportive, very generous to us as well.

"It's been a fantastic year, a great first year in management.

"The supporters have been excellent, brilliant. I couldn't have asked for better supporters and they will always remain in my heart."

Di Matteo now faces the challenge to get West Brom back into the Premier League, yet he's planning on keeping an eye on how the Dons do in their own quest for promotion this coming season.

"You'll see me back, I hope I can come and see a few MK Dons games," he said.

Unfinished business for boss

PAUL Ince has returned to MK Dons vowing to finish the job he started two years ago.

After winning promotion to League One with the club in 2008, Ince expected them to reach the Championship last season, even though he had departed for Blackburn Rovers.

And now he is back at the helm he is determined to make it happen during his newly signed two-years in charge.

But the 41-year-old is not at stadiummk expecting an easy season ahead, he is more than aware that the Dons have a fight on their hands if they are to challenge for promotion.

Ince told MK NEWS: “I think last year was a great time for Milton Keynes to go up. This year the league's a lot tougher, you've got some big clubs in there.

“You've got six or seven massive teams who are vying for three places. I'm under no illusions that it's going to be a hard, hard season for us but we've got to take a lot of confidence from last year.”

Chairman Pete Winkelman was straight on the phone to Paul Ince once Roberto Di Matteo left for West Bromwich Albion

The former-England captain has delayed meeting up with the first team at their Portugal training camp so he can work on bringing new players to the club.

Ince expects to sign up ‘five or six’ more additions, and he feels it is an added bonus that the squad still resembles the one he previously managed.

He added: “They know what I expect, they know my standards, they know what to do and what not to do.

“We are low on numbers and we need to bring in some other players.”

His first game back at stadiummk will be a pre-season friendly against Wolverhampton Wanderers, a club that Ince spent four years at and where he remains a fans favourite.

While it may be a match he is looking forward to, Ince is only focusing on one date, he said: “It's a bit ironic. It's nice that they can come and play us, but the most important game is Hartlepool on August 8. We'll be looking towards that more than anything.”

As MK NEWS exclusively revealed last week chairman Pete Winkelman was straight on the phone to Ince once Roberto Di Matteo left for West Bromwich Albion. And a poll on the MK NEWS website indicated that 71 per cent of fans wanted Ince to return as manager.

Winkelman, thrilled to have Ince back on board, said: “He brought us our first silverware at Wembley, he brought us our first league title. When you think about those achievements it's absolutely plain that he needed the chance to finish some unfinished business. There's some hard work to achieve over the next few months, and I would like to believe over the next two years Paul will be able to get us where we want to go.”

The club are still working on who to bring in as members of Ince's back room staff. They are currently talking with Blackburn Rovers to reunite Karl Robinson with Ince at the Dons.

■ INCE'S first job could be holding on to Dons skipper Dean Lewington.

Reports suggest Fulham are interested in making a £500,000 move for the left-back.

Lewington's father Ray is currently first team coach at Fulham.

■ DONS have announced a pre-season friendly with Northampton Town on August, 1.
